

ABGG

Animal Behavior Graduate Group Winter 2020 Seminar Series

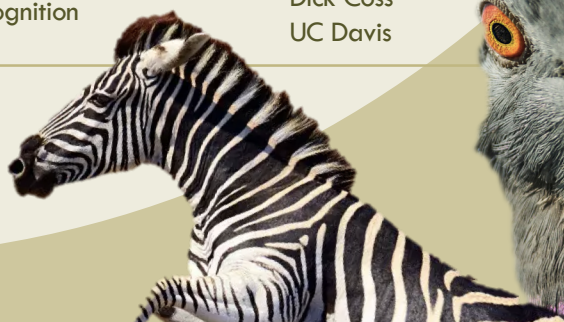

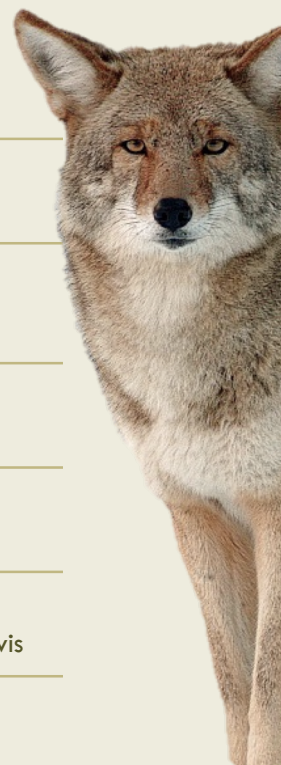

Fridays @ 12:10 pm in 1150 Hart Hall

Graduate students only: ANB290, CRN 43027

Undergraduates: for 1 credit, ESP 198, CRN 56348

Jan 10	Foraging behavior and physiology of rorqual whales: implications for marine ecosystems	Matt Savoca Hopkins Marine Station/Stanford
Jan 17	Attachment behavior and bonding between pets and people	Monique Udell Oregon State
Jan 24	Primate Social Structure and Health: Insights from the Genus Macaca	Krishna Balasubramaniam UC Davis
Jan 31	The study of anticipatory behavior in zoo animals – where did it come from and where is it going?	Jason Watters SF Zoo
Feb 7	Social and developmental drivers of individual behavioral variation	Kate Laskowski UC Davis
Feb 14	The behavioral ecology of mammalian coloration	Tim Caro U. Bristol & UC Davis
Feb 21	From party to parent: the role of prolactin in reproductive transitions during biparental care & The chemistry of life and death within the rocky intertidal	Victoria Farrar & Tinh Ton UC Davis
Feb 28	In Hot Water: Effect of developmental experience on fish activity & Peer pressure: the influence of social group size and membership on susceptibility to an evolutionary trap	Amelia Munson & Lea Pollack UC Davis
Mar 6	Epigenetic sources of phenotypic variation: the importance of sperm-mediated paternal effects	Jennifer Hellmann U. Illinois
Mar 13	Comparative Studies of the Development of Predator Recognition	Dick Coss UC Davis

Note: Animals not to scale